ICE LOSING GRIP ON WEWEANTIC

The January thaw is breaking up that old pack o'mine. This view of the Weweantic River on the Wareham line shows some great encouragement for those non-winter fanciers among us who are eager for more open water and the warmer breezes. For a number of years, birds have taken refuge in the swifter flowing slot under the bridge on Route 6 which is seldom solid ice. Now, the edges are starting to open as well, giving the feathered population much more range for take-offs and landings.

A letter shown to the Board by Mrs. Peterson written by Peter Kortright, chairman of the Growth Committee, read, in part, "Our information indicates that the developer plans a very large residential development with recreational amenities. Such a development would be the largest project ever proposed for Mattapoisett and has significant potential impacts for both the immediate area and for the town as a whole. These include population growth, traffic, pollution, and increased demand for schools, water, police, and fire, and sewer services. Of course, there may be positive impacts as well, including additional housing and increased tax base.

"Some or all of this property has received favorable tax treatment under M.G.L. (Massachusetts General Laws), Chapter 61B. As such, when it is sold, the law requires the seller to give the town a 90-day 'right of first refusal' to purchase the property at 'fair market value'. We understand that the law allows Selectmen to either accept or waive the 90-day right of refusal. velopment, that the townspeople should be fully briefed on the proposal and given the opportunity to discuss it and develop some concensus on how the town should deal with this and similar situations that are likely to emerge.

"In addition, it is possible that the developer will include an 'affordable housing' component in the Brandt Neck proposal and ask the state for a 'comprehensive permit' which could conceivably override town by-laws. Fortunately, and we commend the Board for this, the Board of Selectmen has recently appointed an Affordable Housing Committee to avoid the need for comprehensive permits. However, it is extremely important that this committee begin work as soon as possible so that it will be prepared to deal with such development proposals when they arise.

"In order to discuss these and other important growth management issues in light of the proposed Brandt Neck development, we would like to invite the Board of Selectmen, the Affordable Housing Committee and the general public to our next meeting. This will be on Thursday, January 28th, at 7:30 p.m. at the Village court complex."

Mrs. Peterson expressed the opinion there should be public forum before anything passes hands. She urged Selectmen to attend the open meeting. All Selectmen said they will attend. She said such a meeting would be helpful to clear the air on the Brandt Neck rumors. They need to be aired before people get angry.

On a similar matter, Selectmen appointed Sylvia Fales, chairman of the Board of Appeals; Donald C. Wood, Fire Chief and Board of Health Agent; Robert Gingras, member of the Board of Assessors, and Harvey Blanchette, interested citizen, to serve on the Affordable Housing Committee.

In other business, Selectmen:

MET WITH representatives of the American Cablesystems and Continental Cablevision, Inc. and voted to approve a transfer of American's cable license to Continental. Continental recently acquired American ed the Board has received very few complaints regarding American's operation since it was taken over from the original owners. Selectman William F. Hubbard said he had received no complaints at all.

Margaret Sofio, spokesperson of the northeast region serving from the Boston office, said Continental is pleased with American's operation; it is so well run. Its assets are its people, dealing with subscribers.

Ms. Sofio explained Continental began its operation in 1963 and is the third largest nationwide. "We have a large voice in the industry. We can be a back-up in case of emergencies as we have extra technicians and resources. We take our license commitments very seriously. We believe very strongly in customer service. We keep decisions as close to subscribers as possible and we intend to retain the present local managers but may bring in some new bosses." Ms. Sofio had high praise for Carol Bradley, American's manager. "There are no planned program changes to subscribers."

On a similar matter, Selectmen approved the disturbance of North

MOMENT OF SILENCE FOR WALTER SILVEIRA FAIRHAVEN SELECTMAN

A moment of silence was observed in remembrance of Walter Silveira, Sr., Fairhaven Selectmen, who died January 18th at the age of 86. He had recently declared his intention to run for his 11th term as a Selectman. He had served as Selectman for 44 years.

Selectmen Chairman John N. DeCosta said, "Walter worked with this Board on many occasions and recently 'walked the bounds' between Fairhaven and Mattapoisett with Selectmen from the two towns. "He was a personal friend and will be missed."

Selectman Frank M. Suzan said he often met Mr. Silveira on the golf course and at church. "He was a fine gentleman and Mr. Silveira's passing is the end of an era. He was truly "Mr. Fairhaven", as he always took the town of Fairhaven to heart."

The Board voted to fly the flag at Town Hall at half-mast for Walter Silveira on the day of interment, Thursday.

The meeting will be on Thursday, January 28th, at 7:30 p.m. at the Village Court Complex.

BOARD OF HEALTH

As previously voted, this third Tuesday of the month scheduled the Board of Health meeting before the regular Selectmen's meeting. Because the Selectmen's meetings frequently run late, Board of Health meetings are sometimes held at 10:00 p.m. or 10:30 p.m. The third Tuesday of each month will regularly have the Board of Health meeting scheduled for 7:00 p.m., followed by the Selectmen's meeting.

Appearing before the Marion Board of Health this date were Fran Farrell, Trudy Wehner and Sherman Briggs, all with similar concerns. They voiced strong objections to the fact that John Rockwell, Chairman of the Conservation Commission, had been digging test holes with a back hoe within a restricted area of wetlands without obtaining a permit from the Conservation Commission. It was also pointed out that Mr. Rockwell had made an error in locating his property line and had encroached on town-owned property with the test holes. There were also many questions asked about a fly-over of the Fran Farrell property by Mr. Rockwell in a helicopter to take aerial photographs. Selectman Ted Pratt, who is also Chairman of the Board of Health, assured the three citizens that there had been no authorization by the Selectmen for Mr. Rockwell's actions and any expense incurred by Mr. Rockwell in this action would be the financial responsibility of Mr. Rockwell. Chairman Pratt also stated that there is no law which prohibits such fly-overs and photographing. The Board will check with Mr. Rockwell for an explanation of the purpose of his actions.

Chairman Pratt also stated that he has been attending Conservation Commission meetings regularly in order to effect a more cooperative attitude between the two Boards. Although the Board of Health and the Conservation Commission relationships have been confrontational in the past, new cooperative procedures should improve the situation.

When an applicant appeals a Conservation Commission finding to the DEQE very few superceding orders have been received from DEQE and, in many cases, the DEQE has issued orders more stringent than those of the local Conservation Commission. The Commission has made reasonable efforts to deal fairly with applicants in view of the fact that its main responsibility is to protect a rapidly decaying environment. Any citizen who has problems with any Town Board of Committee or individual member was assured of a hearing with the Selectmen to discuss their concerns and produce answers to their questions.

The Board of Health agent will observe the ground water test site on the Brainard property on Delano Road on the appropriate date and tide.

Executive Secretary Ray Pickles presented regulations of the Lakeville Board of Health requirements for a septic system permit which assume there will be a garbage disposal installed at some time in all applicants' homes. The present application forms allow the design engineer to build a smaller system if no garbage disposal unit is planned but any do-it-yourselfer could install a unit later which would, eventually, overburden the system and result in very expensive rebuilding. The cost of building a sufficiently large system during initial construction would be only an additional $100. or $200. but rebuilding the system at a later date would be extremely costly. For the protection of subsequent owners of a property the Board of Health will consider incorporating these regulations into the new Marion regulations.

Following up on concerns about salt contamination of ground water caused by highway salting, Representative John Bradford and Senator John Parker will attend the January 26 Selectmen's meeting to address the problem.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING

The New England Telephone request to move a pole on South Street was approved as abutters had been notified and there were no objections. The request to move a pole on Front Street was taken under advisement until abutters can be notified.

Russell DeBarros, representing residents of Hill Street and Oak Street, requested information re the proposed widening of the two streets in question. The Selectmen agree that there is a problem there and will take action to eliminate the danger. The D.P.W. will investigate the possibility of widening the roadway and try to negotiate with the developer in the area to arrive at a Selectman Lagreze, acting Chairman, reported on a meeting he attended with the Marine Resources Commission. The M.R.C. and the Parking Study Committee are working out a compromise for up-grading the Island Wharf area. Mr. Iddings of the Parking Study Committee offered the town the loan of his equipment, a "pooper scooper", to test the levels of pollution in the entire harbor area. Because the equipment depends on the presence of soap to register pollution and previous reports state that the tests are not reliable in salt water, Ray Pickles suggested that a test be conducted in an area where there is a known level of pollution to demonstrate the effectiveness of the equipment before any additional testing is done.

Selectman Lagreze also reported on a meeting with the Watershed Alliance which is a group urging co-operation among all the towns in the Executive Secretary Ray Pickles presented the Selectmen with the new official 2 inch shellfish gauge. It is of cast brass, engraved and with a hole for attachment as the user determines. It will be issued to each holder of a shellfishing license at a cost of $5.00.

Mr. Pickles also stated additional recommendations of the M.R.C. The charge for the use of the dinghy tie-ups is now $5.00 for the season and the M.R.C. suggests that the charge be increased by $5.00 each year until it is in the area of $50. per season. This would be an effort to make the harbor services pay their way with no additional funds required from the General Fund. The cost of dinghy tie-ups at the local boat yards is $75. per season. Selectman Pratt observed that it didn't seem reasonable for the town to charge $50. for a dinghy tie-up when the charge for a half million dollar boat mooring was only $5.00.

The matter was taken under advisement until Chairman John Hoagland can be present. Although the Assistant Harbormaster is a fulltime employee of the town, the Selectmen or the Executive Secretary do not have a job description for him. The M.R.C. will be requested to bring a written job description to the Selectmen, especially for the non-seagoing winter duties.

Mr. Pickles said that all major budgets will be completed by next week and entered into the computer.

A Clerical Union representative will meet with the Selectmen on March 8, 1988.

Reading Partners Sought

Volunteer tutors are needed for the new Reading Partners program to teach reading skills to adults in Marion, Mattapoisett, Rochester, and Wareham. More than one million Massachusetts adults need basic reading instruction. Students may have a variety of goals such as ability to complete applications, improved job performance, or capability to read to grandchildren.

The project will offer free, private, confidential reading help to adults in the four-town area. Each volunteer tutor will be matched to work with one student, meeting on a one-to-one basis at mutually convenient times and places with instruction tailored to the needs and goals of the individual student.

Volunteers must successfully complete an eighteen hour intensive training workshop and commit two hours per week to teaching. An orientation session for prospective tutors who have registered by calling one of the numbers listed below will be held on Wednesday, February

Sippican Reading Campaign

LAUNCHES 3rd ANNUAL READING CAMPAIGN

Students in grades K-6 at Sippican School in Marion will once again be participating in an innovative campaign to involve families in reading, for the fun of it. Children - and parents, too - will be encouraged to set aside time each day during a two-week period for recreational reading. Called "In Celebration of Reading", the campaign is sponsored by Reading is Fundamental (RIF), the nation's largest reading-motivation program.

The start for this year's campaign was January 19-20 when each child at Sippican was invited to choose a free paperback at the first R.I.F. distribution. Entry forms were given to each student planning to participate in the campaign and record the number of hours spent reading during the two-week span. Those

QUESTION:

WHY SHOULD CHILDREN HAVE CHIROPRACTIC SPINAL MANIPULATION?

ANSWER: Because growth and development can be affected by minor bumps, jars and falls.

Every year, thousands of structural health problems in students of grade and high school level go undetected even though teachers, coaches and physical education instructors watch for health irregularities which might interfere with a child's physical performance and learning ability.

Part of their jobs? Not really. It's that extra sense of dedication that makes these already overworked public servants give children that extra attention. The "school guardian" is responsible in many cases for the detection of potential health problems and the funneling of children to proper health authorities.

What most people don't know is that most health problems are far too complex for the teacher to note. And with a busy schedule, the educator can't be expected to have the time to screen problems that are beyond his or her scope of training, no matter how conscientious the teacher may be. The result: many children have health problems that retard their ability to learn or engage in sports effectively.

Here's what you can do:

- Parents should be urged to take more responsibility for their children's health.
- Parents and teachers should be alert to such things as changes in energy level, postural changes, moodiness, listlessness or any unusual signs that signal a problem that will impede learning. One of the observable signs is lack of interest in school activities.
- The structural balance of the child's body should be considered. The school teacher will no doubt note the child's posture, but that does not always indicate the structural integrity of the body. Comprehensive chiropractic examinations, including examinations of the spine, pelvis, neck and limbs should be recommended to avoid developmental problems.
- Incorporate posture awareness programs into your class projects. Write for suggestions and materials.

pupils who follow the guidelines will have their name entered in a local RIF Reader drawing. The student whose name is drawn at Sippican will be honored at a special ceremony on February 8th in the Sippican School Library/Resource Center. The local winner's name will also be entered in a national drawing that will be held April 5th in Washington, D.C. to select the 1988 National RIF Reader and 10 runners-up.

In Celebration of Reading features an exciting array of prizes: the 1988 National Reader will be brought to Washington, D.C. for Reading is Fun Week festivities during April 24-30. The National Reader will also be awarded a collection of books and a $500 U.S. Savings Bond. Assorted other prizes will be given to the winner's school, parents, RIF coordinator, and the runners-up.

On the local level, the Volunteers at Sippican Elementary (V.A.S.E.) will award book gift certificates to seventeen lucky students whose names are chosen in a random drawing.

According to Marie E. Pimental, Librarian at Sippican, the program has been enthusiastically received by students and parents alike. Many of the students read far more than the number of hours required. Last year, the top 10 readers totaled over 300 hours of reading. Parents have applauded the program for pro-

Marion Coterie

FEBRUARY 2nd

Due to the intense interest generated during last week's session, the "Middle East, a Geo-political Phenomenon", will continue to be the lively subject during the Marion Coterie's next meeting on February 2nd at 7:00 p.m. in the library of Saint Gabriel's Episcopal Church, Front and South Streets, Marion. A strikingly revealing VCR tape, depicting the history of the Islam faith, once larger than the Roman Empire, will be shown. It depicts in startling detail why Islam threatens the very existence of not only Israel and the Middle East in general, but also the West. Moslems will resort to any end to meet their goals. It is the opinion of those who made this documentary that they wish nothing less than total world conquest. A discussion will follow.

The Middle-East "hot bed", past, present and future, induced a lively informative discussion during last week's session. Wilbur Crane Eveland III, author of "Ropes of Sand" (and a sequel soon to be published), a former operative for the CIA in the Middle East, led the discussion presenting revealing data (much previously non-published) relating to past United States' involvement. Solutions by members to the Palestinian problem ranged between direct negotiations, the establishment of an independent Palestinian state, and particularly to the withdrawal of Israel from occupied areas of Lebanon. Mr. Eveland will be present at this forthcoming meeting to answer questions.

Tom Shire, former Executive Director of the National Association of Arab Americans and former southeastern Massachusetts coordinator for the Palestine Human Rights Campaign, will also attend to answer questions.

The Marion Coterie meets bi-weekly on Tuesdays at 7:00 p.m. in St. Gabriel's Library in Marion. Subjects, selected by members, vary for each session. They may include science, medicine, education, a book or film, social-political-economical situations, a prominent current event, etc. On February 16th a VCR tape of the movie version of the unique and most popular book, "84 Charing Cross Road", will be shown followed by discussion. Judy Kleven, lecturer and director of the Marion Elizabeth Taber Library, will moderate.

in 1888 and by the end find themselves in 1955 - listening to rock and roll music, using the word "ginchiest", even toting around a surfboard. These three "sister sojourners" are equipped with dialogue as pithy as their helmets, and they thwack their machetes through the wilderness while telling tales of past jaunts amongst the natives. Some of the natives they encounter on this particular kaleidoscopic adventure include a Troll who guards a bridge and speaks in rap, Mr. Coffee, the fortune-telling Madame Nhu, a cannibal from Alsace-Lorraine, a snowball-throwing baby yeti, and Nicky of Nicky Peligrosa's Paradise Bar and Grill. Carolyn Baker, Amber Dermont, and Elizabeth Tomlinson are the three heroines while Matt Filoon, Mark Wenham, Matt Kokonowski, and Nick Finkelstein play the various other roles. Lighting is by Cyril O'Neil, Jon Hall is doing sound, and Laurelle Christian is in charge of props. A frolicsome jaunt through a continuum of space, time, history, feminism, geography, and fashion, this is a thoroughly serendipitous theatrical journey.

on the SAT than students who have not taken the course, according to Janice Motta, Dean of Continuing Education.

"The course reviews the different areas covered by the exam and takes a look at the styles of questions students encounter. For the most part, the preparation course simply takes the fear of the unknown away from students and helps them feel more relaxed on the day of the exam. This is one of the reasons the course is so successful," she said.

Classes meet for six weeks from 6:30 to 9 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday. Another class begins April 5th. The two sessions are scheduled to prepare students for the SAT testing dates planned for March 19th, May 9th, and June 4th. For more information call the college at 678-2811, ext. 155.

Congressman Studds will speak at 1:45 p.m.

Early in 1987 the Congress enacted amendments to the Clean Water Act establishing a National Estuaries Program. Estuaries designated under this program are eligible for federal assistance to develop and implement plans to improve water quality.

The ceremonies will also include remarks by Larry Jensen, Washington EPA Assistant Administrator, and Dr. Wendy Wiltse, EPA coordinator of the Buzzards Bay project. The program will conclude with a panel discussion on state-local cooperation featuring James Hoyte, Massachusetts Secretary of Environmental Affairs; State Rep. Thomas Cahir (D-Bourne); Ted Pratt, Chairman of the Buzzards Bay Citizens Advisory Committee; and Susan Peterson, President of the Coalition for Buzzards Bay.

Rep. Studds has long pressed for a national approach to problems associated with marine environmental pollution, and has focused particularly on research in Buzzards Bay. In 1984 Studds won Congressional approval for $4 million to compile

The designation as a National Estuary means that Buzzards Bay will now be entitled to continued federal funding, even without specific statutory language. Five other estuaries -- Narragansett Bay, Puget Sound, San Francisco Bay, Long Island Sound and Albemarle Sound (N.C.) -- are expected to receive this designation. To date, only Albemarle has formally been recognized.

Children five years of age or older, to be claimed as a dependent, must now have a Social Security number.

The Internal Revenue Service says that starting with your 1987 tax return you must include this number on your return for any child who is 5 years old by December 31, 1987.

"Most dependents who lack a number will be young children," said District Director Gerard R. Esposito. "The requirement is for all dependents, however. Elderly parents or non-resident aliens whom you plan to claim as dependents also must have Social Security numbers."

To apply for a number file a Form S-5 with the Social Security Administration as soon as possible.

But don't delay filing if you have applied for a Social Security number for your dependent and it hasn't arrived by the time you're ready to file your return. Write

The topic presented by Mr. Rodrigues was basic skills and their involvement in real life skills. There were 27 High School and Junior High School teachers involved in the workshop.

Mr. Rodrigues brought some of the materials he has developed to be used in the Consumer Math Classes and the Applied Math Classes. He explained how he arrived at the needs, researched the materials, and developed the presentations to be used in the classes.

Samples of some of the materials were also given to the Math Teachers at Silver-Lake Regional. This was part of the Region's In-Service Workshop Day and concluded with a question and answer session.

Mr. Rodrigues has given these workshops to school districts and through the Project ERR Program involving teachers from New England.

National Award Winner

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Annmarie Baldelli has been named a National Award winner.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10% of all American high school students.

Annmarie, who attends Toms River High School East, Toms River, New Jersey, was nominated for this National Award by Tony Tafrow, the Band Director at the school. Ms. Baldelli will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly United States Achievement Academy award winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation

A. DEFINITELY NOT! Passive exercise is the alternative to strenuous exercise. It has been said by physical therapists that the concept is effective for people with heart problems, artificial joint recipients, arthritics and others. Imagine effortless exercise that provides muscle tone strength, muscular endurance, flexibility, better circulation and inch loss! Call for complimentary visit or just stop in and see for yourself. WALK IN MEMORIAL FOREST, ROCHESTER

The winter of 1988 is a difficult one and the Plymouth County Wildlands Trust is planning to help the public find some pleasantry by sponsoring a winter walk in the Delano Memorial Forest, Rochester on Sunday, February 7th, at 1 p.m. This will be a gentle walk led by Professor Reed F. Stewart, Director of PCWT and Reservations Committee Chairman. About a mile in length the walk will travel through white pine and oak woodlands going to the Sippican River bank, in about 110 acres of the Delano Memorial Forest. The walk is designed for families and will help participants look for animal homes and tracks, learn how insects survive the cold and identify common plants in their winter forms. Sturdy warm footwear and warm clothes, gloves and a hat are essential for safety and comfort. A snack and

PCWT LAND SEARCH NETWORK MEETS ON FEBRUARY 13th

Southeastern Massachusetts is the fastest growing region of the state. The Plymouth County Wildlands Trust (PCWT) believes that substantial amounts of conservation land and open space must be preserved if the quality of life and the character of the landscape are to survive as the region grows. In 1985 a Land Search Network of individuals was formed, who want to help identify land that should be preserved for the public benefit. Anyone interested in this effort is invited to attend the next Land Search Network meeting in Kingston on February 13th at 9:30 a.m. in the Beal House. There is no charge.

The program will focus on how land can be protected in a natural state and will include guest speakers from the Trustees of Reservations, Conservation Law Foundation, Land Trust Exchange and officers of PCWT.

PCWT is an all volunteer, non-profit land trust dedicated to preserving natural areas in southeastern Massachusetts. It now owns and protects nearly 1100 acres in Bourne, Duxbury, Kingston, Marshfield, Middleborough, Plymouth, Rochester, and Wareham. It works with private, municipal, state and federal conservation groups, as well as with individuals and businesses. For information on membership call 224-2765 or 224-3587.

TOBEY HOSPITAL
OPENING OF NEW UNIT

Tobey Hospital will dedicate its new Surgical Day Care Unit at an Open House on Sunday, February 14th, from 2 to 4 p.m. with the dedication ceremony at 2:30.

The public is invited to tour the new unit, which offers expanded and renovated facilities for same-day surgery.

Day surgery patients enter the hospital, undergo their procedure, and return home on the same day. "Our day surgery program has grown dramatically in the past several years," said hospital president Charles S. Kinney. "Day surgery now comprises about 65% of all surgery performed at Tobey. The new facilities will enable us to meet this increased demand and will provide a pleasant, comfortable setting for patients and their families."

The 2000-square foot unit includes a six-stretcher recovery area, a comfortable patient lounge and changing area, a nurses' station, and a waiting room for families. The expanded area increases surgical day care capacity by about 50%.

The new day surgery unit is dedicated to the memory of Marion residents, Aileen and Edwin Pratt, through a very generous contribution by their children to the hospital's capital campaign.

The unit, designed by the architectural firm of Dean, Tucker Shaw of Boston, reflects a new trend in hospital architecture, departing from a strictly institutional design. "Our main goal was to provide a comfortable setting for patients. Hospitals can be such cold, institutional settings," said architect Gary Shaw. "We've designed the SDC Unit to be warm, open, and inviting."

The unit is decorated in soothing pastels, with colors defining various areas. A major architectural detail is a light-filled cathedral ceiling in the patient area, offset by a triangular "roof" over one doorway, designed to imitate the exterior roofline of the hospital. "The open, airy feeling of the unit is designed to help patients and their families feel relaxed and at ease", noted Shaw.

In addition to surgical procedures, the Same Day Surgery area will be the setting for chemotherapy treatment for cancer patients and will be used for patients who need frequent blood transfers. "Having these services available close to home can vastly

Boston Children's Museum

CELEBRATES CHINESE NEW YEAR

The Children's Museum will celebrate Chinese New Year Sunday, February 7th. 1988 is the Year of the Dragon and in Chinese tradition that means a very special year lies ahead. What better way to kick off a year of good fortune than a day of fun at The Children's Museum.

Many activities will be scheduled throughout the Children's Museum from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Make hongbao, red envelopes, a traditional New Year's gift, or jian-zhi, New Year papercut decorations. Kick jian-ze, the Chinese version of the modern hacky sack, or play Chinese jumprope. Find your animal zodiac sign and horoscope, watch the art of shu-fa, calligraphy, or play qigiao-ban, "seven clever pieces", (a.k.a. tangrams).

Chinese performances are scheduled throughout the day. At 12:30 watch the Lion Dance by the Wah Lum Kung Fu Academy, directed by Master Yao Li. A martial arts demonstration will follow at 1 and 1:30 p.m. and at 2 p.m. Master Yao Li will conduct a martial arts workshop for kids in the clubhouse on the fourth floor. At 3:30 p.m. the children of the American Chinese Art Society, led by Jade Lin, will perform Chinese folk dances.

The Year of the Dragon only comes around once every twelve years, so don't miss the celebration. Admission to the Children's Museum is $3.50 for children 2-15 and senior citizens, $4.50 for other adults,
